The Perfect Solution for British Weather

Enjoy the outdoors all year round

With an awning from Samson you can enjoy the outdoor, alfresco lifestyle potentially all year round. Whether entertaining friends and family or just relaxing on your patio a correctly specified and installed awning will give a completely different ambience to your outdoors, making the intense midday sun or the odd rainfall totally ineffective.

How many times has a sudden short shower spoiled a barbeque? A Samson awning could protect you and your guests from the all too frequent and inconvenient rainfall in any of our unpredictable seasons. With options such as heaters, lighting or side screens you could easily extend the time spent outdoors even in cooler weather.

Keeping out of the sun's harmful rays in the summer is more important now than ever before and patio awnings offer the best in shading your outdoor area. The effects of harsh sunlight on fabrics and furnishings are also prevented with the shading provided by a suitable awning.

Most people think of the awning for shading and sun protection but properly specified you will get a lot of use in light rainfall as well when it is still very warm outside.

Quite simply a patio awning is the perfect way to add the benefits of an extra room and living space without the hassle of planning or building work involved and at the same time you have control when you want to use it or not.
